

Ask Me About

Week of 1/21

- Putting all of our reading super powers to work to read harder books! We are using extra strength super powers to read even more challenging books!
- Retelling books—now we're adding in a pinch of ourselves when retelling a story. Why do I think the character acted that way? Would I do the same thing? What does this book remind me of in my own life? What else do I know about this topic?
- Using our writing tools to revise and edit our writing pieces. We are “fancying up” our writing for our special author’s sharing on Friday. We are so proud of our hard work and wonderful stories!
- Shapes! Shapes! Shapes! We are looking closer at shapes. We are looking at their attributes and sorting them. We’re looking at real world objects too and seeing what group they fit in.
- “Flex Groups” (aka Tier Time) - we are working in small groups 3x per week to focus on different literacy skills. Sometimes we even get to work on the iPads! Check out “Starfall” on the internet and I can show you what I’ve been playing!
- Vowels! We have Vowel Shields that hold all of our vowels. We’re activating our vowel power one vowel at a time. We use our vowel power to continue to grow as readers and writers!
