

Ask Me About

Week of 11/27

- Looking for patterns in our books! We use the patterns we find to help us read trickier books.
- Pattern breaks! Once we get the pattern straight, we notice a change in the pattern! We call this a pattern break. We know we need to be watchful so it doesn't trick us!
- How to make our writing easier to read. We know we need to leave spaces between our words, write lots of letters for each word, write neatly and use pictures to support our words.
- Writing true stories. We think about something that we did or something that happened to us. Then we write WHO was involved, WHERE we were, and WHAT happened.

- Living and non-living things. We know that living things eat, breathe, grow and reproduce.
- Crossing the decade. Going from 29 to 30 or 49 to 50 is hard!! We are learning what's happening when we cross a decade. Help me practice at home.
