

Ask Me About

Week of 9/17

- How I can read “old favorite” storybooks. These are the ones I have heard over and over, so now I can “read” them myself!
- How I use the characters exact words when reading to my stuffie or my partner. I remember “Not by the hair on my chinny, chin, chin!” and “Run, run, as fast as you can...”
- How I can plan out the pages of my book before beginning, then staple together to create a book!
- How I stretch out words to hear the sounds in them when I am writing. Let me show you!
- How my partner can give me suggestions of how to make my book even better!
- Different ways to show a number. (With the numeral, with tally marks, with a picture...)
- How I use math when I’m playing a game. (I count the dots on dice, I count the squares as I move my piece, I compare numbers to see which is more or less.)

- Our fantastic Cultural Council on mindfulness. Check out our webpage for some fun pictures!
